The following guidelines illustrate the preferred layout for the specification of a utility application. These guidelines are suggested for the applicant's use.

Arrangement of the Specification

As provided in 37 CFR 1.77(b), the specification of a utility application should include the following sections in order. Each of the lettered items should appear in upper case, without underlining or bold type, as a section heading. If no text follows the section heading, the phrase "Not Applicable" should follow the section heading:

- (a) TITLE OF THE INVENTION.
- (b) CROSS-REFERENCE TO RELATED APPLICATIONS.
- (c) STATEMENT REGARDING FEDERALLY SPONSORED RESEARCH OR DEVELOPMENT.
- (d) INCORPORATION-BY-REFERENCE OF MATERIAL SUBMITTED ON A COMPACT DISC (See 37 CFR 1.52(e)(5) and MPEP 608.05. Computer program listings (37 CFR 1.96(c)), "Sequence Listings" (37 CFR 1.821(c)), and tables having more than 50 pages of text are permitted to be submitted on compact discs.) or REFERENCE TO A "MICROFICHE APPENDIX" (See MPEP § 608.05(a). "Microfiche Appendices" were accepted by the Office until March 1, 2001.)
- (e) BACKGROUND OF THE INVENTION.
 - (1) Field of the Invention.
 - (2) Description of Related Art including information disclosed under 37 CFR 1.97 and 1.98.
- (f) BRIEF SUMMARY OF THE INVENTION.
- (g) BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF THE SEVERAL VIEWS OF THE DRAWING(S).
- (h) DETAILED DESCRIPTION OF THE INVENTION.
- (i) CLAIM OR CLAIMS (commencing on a separate sheet).
- (j) ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE (commencing on a separate sheet).
- (k) SEQUENCE LISTING (See MPEP § 2424 and 37 CFR 1.821-1.825. A "Sequence Listing" is required on paper if the application discloses a nucleotide or amino acid sequence as defined in 37 CFR 1.821(a) and if the required "Sequence Listing" is not submitted as an electronic document on compact disc).

The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities:

There is no separate description of the figures in the specification. An amendment to the specification inserting a copy of the description of the figures, which is on page 13, would overcome the objection.

Appropriate correction is required.

The drawings are objected to because they are in German. A proposed drawing correction or corrected drawings are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 1 contains the recitation GPS and GPM and it is unclear what is meant by these terms. An amendment to the claim inserting the full name of the compound, as outlined on page 4, lines 7-11, would overcome the rejection.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-4, 7-9, 11, 16 and 17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Lindley (US 4,572,936).

Lindley discloses tablets made from isomaltulose. At example 1 a mixture of isomaltulose and gum arabic is formed into a pasty mixture. "After through mixing, the mixture is passed through a size 16 mesh sieve (1000 microns) and dried at 95C to give a table base composition". Then the base composition is re-sieved and mixed with saccharin, gum Arabic and sodium stearate to form a tablet table composition. The claims appear to differ from the reference in the suggestion of a smaller particle size ground intermediate composition. Change in particle size of the intermediate product is not alone seen to constitute unobviousness, particularly when the final product is compressed into a larger sized product. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to utilize the process of Lindley to prepare the isomaltulose of the claims. It is appreciated that applicant indicates that the particle size is important to the present invention but the criticality of the particle size is not shown in the specification. It is appreciated that the distribution of gpm and gps is not indicated in the reference but claim 1 does not even require these ingredients as starting materials. It is finally appreciated that the mode of application of the binder is not shown but no criticality is seen in the use of a spray or nozzle for the addition of the liquid saccharin in example 1.

Claims 5, 6, 10, 12-15 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
